BEAUX ARTS COSTUME BALL

AIA New Orleans

You know, they straightened out the Mississippi River in places, to make room for houses and livable acreage. Occasionally the river floods these places.

'Floods' is the word they use, but in fact it is not flooding; it is remembering. Remembering where it used to be.

All water has a perfect memory and is forever trying to get back to where it was.

— Toni Morrison

Bending back onto the scene,

this avant-garde and enchanting event is a celebration of our eclectic city, embracing the arts, architecture, culture, and music.

Guests, donned in costumes inspired by this year's theme "Shift Shape" will delight in a festive spring evening at The Industrial Garden – a hidden treasure within Faubourg-Marigny operated by The Promise of Justice Initiative.

Join us for an unforgettable experience with an introspective study of sustainability and living with water in our past, present, and future.

About the Event

Inspired by the Harold Fisk maps of the ever-shifting Mississippi River, this year's theme embraces the kaleidoscope of memory, change, fluidity, loss, searching, and time.

In one instance of eternity, how do we shift as our landscape shapes?
